Sewer hearing topics

MOKENA — Some 60 residents of Brightwood, now a part of Mokena through annexation, filled the village hall to standing room capacity Monday night when members of the Village Board meeting as the Board of Local Improvements held a public hearing on extending the sewer and water systems to that subdivision.

The Board of Local Improvements will voice its conclusions at the close of the regular village board meeting next Tuesday night, Aug. 8. It is expected that the switch in identity of the two village bodies will come about 11 o'clock. The village board will complete its business, adjourn, and then reconvene as the Board of Local Improvements.

If the recommendation is to proceed with the improvements then a person will be selected to spread the assessment and a court hearing held at which objections to the assessments may be raised.

Village Attorney George E. Sangmeister and Douglas Hutchison, a partner in the same Joliet law firm with Sangmeister and with considerable experience in special assessment cases, told the Brightwood people it would take five or six weeks to get the case into court.

If no serious objections arise and the case progresses normally it is possible, Hutchison said in answer to a question from the property owners, that bids could be taken by the end of October. If the bids are within the estimate and a contract let, Village Engineer George Barber said, he believed the water and sewer mains would be installed by early December.

Barber has estimated the cost of the improvements at $446,115.11. Dividing that figure by 123, the number of lots in Brightwood, Barber said the cost would be $3,626 a lot.

The attorneys said that they could not say, because they did not know, how the assessment would be spread. Barber said it could be done by lot, by square feet, or on a front foot basis.

All property owners will be notified by mail and through public notice in the newspaper when the court hearing will be held.

At that time, the attorneys said, each property owner would know the amount of his assessment. The payments would be spread over a 10-year period, with interest. Anyone who wanted to save the interest would have the privilege of paying his installments in a lump sum.

Asked what the village expected to pay in public benefits to reduce the cost to the property owners, Sangmeister said that the village had no money for such a purpose, that its bonding power was limited to five percent of the total assessed valuation of the village and that it had reached that limit.

He explained that the only way the village could contribute would be from assessments paid by anyone tapping on to the mains along 116th Street or in Sunny Acres. Those people would pay a $500 tap-on fee, plus the assessment for the mains running by their property, the same assessment as would be paid by Brightwood residents.

The $500 tap-on fee constitutes a service charge and this would be retained by the village for future additions to the sewage treatment plant or improvements to the water system. The assessments, however, could be used by the village to rebate some of the costs borne by Brightwood property owners, Sangmeister said.

Asked where the village got the 30 percent of the cost for Hillcrest Builders sewer and water lines, and why Sangmeister explained that the village did not put up any money for Hillcrest. "Hillcrest Builders," Sangmeister said, "installed all of its sewer and water lines in its development and also installed mains to the sewage treatment plant. The village board figured that this extension would ultimately bring in a large number of new customers for out services."

"Hillcrest builders paid a $500 tap-on fee for each of their lots, which amounts to $150,000. The line extended to the sewage plant is costing them another $100,000. The village waived the first $30,000 of tap-on fees for this line. But when people tap on to it each one will pay the $500 fee and that, as well as the assessment for the main, comes to the village, not to Hillcrest Builders."

Sangmeister also pointed out that by making a deposit of $10 when the sewer and water proposal was first brought up the people of Brightwood had saved themselves the $500 tap-on fee.

Asked what would happen if the original depositor has since sold his property, Sangmeister said that while he was not a member of the village board and could not speak for it, he would recommend that it allow the $10 deposit to run with the land. There has been on case, the village attorney said, where a deposit was made for a sewer or water line in lieu of the regular tap-on fee, where the village has not honored it regardless of any transfer of titles to the property.

There was some dissatisfaction expressed by various persons attending the hearing about the delay. Some claimed that before they voted to annex to the village they were told the cost of sewer and water might run from $1,900 to $2,200 a lot and that now it has risen to some $3,600.

Sangmeister answered that two years ago when the matter was first brought up the village had assurances from developers of the Owens property that a sewage treatment plant would be built on Hickory Creek, at a nearby point to Brightwood and in an endeavor to save money for the people there, village officials recommended that was the best course to follow.

The developers failed to proceed with their plans, however, nor have their successors done anything about building a treatment plant, altho plans were drawn and approved at Springfield.

When some months ago the people insisted on action on the improvement the village board decided to go ahead and hook up the sewers with the existing treatment plant on Wolf Road, Sangmeister said, and connect with the village water system. And the village engineer proceeded with the plans to follow this course.

George Barber, the village engineer, said that materials and wages have risen in the past two years so that costs have increased some 50 percent.

Asked when the people of Brightwood would know for certain when the water and sewer would be put in, Attorney Hutchison put it in few words — "When the contract is signed."

He also pointed out that if the bids exceeded the estimates for the water or the sewer by 10 percent, the whole procedure would have to be started all over again.

In reply to inquiries as to the possibilities of federal grants for the project, Hutchison said he has had some experience in this field and the chances for a grant from HUD in this case would be, in his opinion, quite slim. Such an application, he added, would delay the project further.

There is no market for special assessment bonds, he said, but other arrangements could be made with contractors. Barber said he has had two inquiries from contractors who asked that they be notified when the job would be ready for bidding. Hutchison added that he too had received inquiries. One of the residents, Edward Engstrom asked if it were possible for Brightwood to deannex from the village. Sangmeister told him there was such a process.

While many individuals were firing questions at the board — most of them directed to the attorneys — they covered the same ground as outlined in a letter filled with questions posed by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Mool and Mr. and Mrs. James Pels.

Trustee Kenneth Warning presided at the hearing.

Builder has new plan

FRANKFORT — 3-H Building Corporation has announced they are dropping the planned six-plex type of structure for the development located west of Harlem Avenue and north of Vollmer Road in Will County. Three-plex units and single family dwellings will be built instead.

Final approval of this planned change is subject to the approval of Tinley Park officials since the development is within 1½ miles of the village.

The developers also have announced that the swampy land located in the northwest corner of the property will be left vacant for a park for the residents.

The State of Illinois refused to grant permission for two roads entering and exiting the development, citing the new limited access road as the state's reason for refusal.

3-H Building Corporation also has acquired 218 acres of land south of Francis Road, across from Frankfort Square, for development of duplex units (zoned R-2) and apartment-condominium type units (zoned R-3). The plans are still subject to the approval of the Will County Board of Supervisors.

The new property's south boundary is North Avenue and it will be divided in half, from north to south, by 80th Avenue. The Frankfort Township Highway Department is presently widening, rebuilding and repaving 80th Avenue from US 30 to the 3-H property line. 3-H will be responsible for finishing the road through the company's development.

3-H Building Corporation approached the Frankfort Township Plan Commission for the Commission's advice and assistance in properly planning the new development, according to the Plan Commission Chairman Glenn Coburn.

Coburn indicated that the commission would work with the developers but, he said that a higher priced development would be preferred for the area. Coburn noted that present unit prices being considered were in the $25,000 to $30,000 class.

3-H intends to enlarge the Hoffman and Rosner sewerage treatment plant at Frankfort Square to accommodate both of the new areas. The plant is owned by Prestwick Utilities.

The spokesman for 3-H Building Corporation is listed as Stanley Grosshandler of Chicago. Their legal counsel in Will County is the law firm of Herschbach, Tracy, Johnson and Wilson of Joliet. This firm also represents the interests in Will County of Kauffman and Broad, developers and builders of Rainbow Valley near Arbury Hills in Frankfort Township and Cinnamon Creek near Bolingbrook, also Continental Builders, who have announced plans to build 800 units in Homer Township, Vulcan Materials Corporation and Lou Manilo, the developer of Park Forest South.

A large audience gathered to learn of plans for South Suburban Freeway at a meeting conducted last Thursday night in Lincoln-Way high school by state engineers. There was considerable divergence of opinion as to how the route should go but those talked to by The HERALD reporter appeared to be resigned. "Regardless of what we say," they say, "THEY (meaning the state highway people) will put it where they want to."

Banbury fights freeway

NEW LENOX — Public hearings on the location of mini-corridors of the proposed South Suburban Freeway attracted large numbers of area residents last week at Lincoln-Way High School, New Lenox, and at Park Forest South.

There was not much said at New Lenox about the east-west segment, most of the controversy being centered on the north-south routes. Ralph Wehner, deputy regional transportation engineer, who presided at the hearing, said that the state favored the route furthest west and south. It really has no firm preference.

This furthest west route, it was said, would practically wipe out Banbury, an 80-acre subdivision lying just north and a little west of New Lenox, off Francis Road. The 30 homes there run from $40,000 to $100,000. Beside the fact that they like it where they are and do not want to move, the owners indicated they feared the acquisition of their property by the state would cause them considerable financial loss.

The Banbury residents have hired Gerald Galowich, an attorney, and have presented a petition with 80 signatures to the State Transportation Department opposing this far western leg of the Lake-Will South Suburban Freeway.

Donald Jurgens, 1175 Holly Hill Circle, served as spokesman for the Banbury residents. He said that the western leg would be the least useful for New Lenox. He advocated one of the routes further to the east with interchanges at U.S. 6, I-80, U.S. 30 and Laraway Road.

Such a route, he said, would better serve the villages of New Lenox and Mokena, as well as the territory in the south section of Homer, north New Lenox township and Joliet. It also would be of easy access to Silver Cross Hospital, he said.

Jurgens also pointed out that the route to the east would cross the Hickory Creek flood plain and lands now locked in between the Rock Island Railroad and Norfolk and Western Railroad and that such lands would not be as expensive as prime property.

State Representative George M. O'Brien, who was present at the meeting in Lincoln-Way School, remarked that the Banbury group had made a strong case, especially in coming up with alternatives.

O'Brien added that he thought the state should listen to the Banbury plea.

Mayor Glenn Warning and Burton Breidert, administrative assistant of Frankfort, were in the audience but did not participate in the discussion. Breidert at an earlier meeting with the transportation department pointed out that the southern route which is a continuation of the westernmost route that finds favor with the state, would be disastrous as far as Frankfort is concerned.

It would seal off the south end of the airport lying south of Frankfort, cut through the village's industrial section, and hamper further expansion of water and sewer in that direction because of the extreme high costs that would be involved, it was said. Frankfort wants a route further south and so does Park Forest.

At the Lincoln-Way meeting Attorney Albert H. Krusemark, Frankfort, asked Wehner when the state expected to reach a decision on which of the mini-corridors it would use and when work would be started.

Richard Miller, project engineer for Murphy Engineering, Inc., which has been conducting the study for route locations for the state answered Krusemark's question.

Miller said it was hoped that a recommendation could be made this fall that would be found acceptable as to which mini-corridor is to be used.

Charting the freeway's course through the corridor might take a year of planning. Providing funds are available the purchase of right-of-way probably will begin in 1975, Miller said.

John Bolden, right-of-way engineer for the state, told the audience the state would pay the full, fair, cash market value for the property acquired. Thomas Parker, the state's assistant manager for re-location of people who lose their property in these highway deals, told all about what the state would do to help dispossessed people to find other homes.

All the answers, he said, could be found in a brochure which the people present had been given when they entered the auditorium. Other printed information on the project also was distributed.

Bill Bolker, a New Lenox builder, who is planning Stonebridge Subdivision southwest of New Lenox, objected to the proposed route south of Laraway Road. This would wreck his subdivision, he said and that the area around Jackson Creek and Laraway Road is ideal for location of a sewage treatment plant.

Bolker recommended a route east of New Lenox with interchanges at U.S. 6, I-80, U.S. 30 and Laraway Road.

Dr. Raymond Kennedy, a surgeon, was present at the meeting but did not join in the public discussion. He told this reporter, however, that a cloverleaf type of interchange at Cedar Road and U.S. 6, which has been spoken of repeatedly in connection with the South Suburban Freeway, would encroach heavily on his farm, which runs west from Cedar Road, north of U.S. 6, and he fears it would greatly depreciate the value of his home.

"I know that a ramp running through the middle of the house or even close by is going to devalue the property greatly and I am doubtful that the state would pay what it would cost me."

Philip Peters, representing the Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission of which Will County and the area communities are members, said that group favored a route to the east of New Lenox.

He also pointed out that in the event Green Garden was picked as a site for the third international airport in the Chicago area it would make a big difference in the location of the South Suburban Freeway.

A couple of years ago the South Suburban Freeway resembled a large capital "L" with the upright leg going north to connect with the tollway and making a connection with O'Hare. One could have described it as a high boot such as women have been wearing.

According to a recent fashion note the high boot is on its way out and so is the former south suburban route which would have paralleled Wolf Road.

Now, the so called Lake-Will South Suburban Freeway looks like a square-toed high-top shoe with half the top cut off.

When it turns east it is supposed to run near Steger and Crete and connect with the Calumet Expressway.

It has been said in the past that this route running to the east is to hook up with the major north and south routes through Indiana. Nothing has been said at this time to indicate that this won't happen now but the first connection is slated to be the Calumet Expressway.

Wehner told the audience that if anyone wished to make a statement relative to the proposed routes (large maps showing the various mini-corridors were displayed in the gymnasium at Lincoln-Way) in favor of or against any of the routes or the general overall plan, may write to S.K. Ziejewski, Regional Transportation Engineer, Region One, Illinois Division of Highways, 300 N. State Street, Chicago 60610, before Aug. 11.

longer, to establish the rates, it was said.

Once the rates are made the tax bills can be made and sent out to the property owners. It has been estimated by those familiar with the procedures that the bills will be out in October or November, at the earliest. Could be they might come out in lieu of Christmas cards.

Board facing taxing problems

JOLIET — Taxes and property valuations are likely to be lively subjects of conversations through the long winter evenings because it looks now as if it will be winter — or very close to it before the bills will be out.

The board of review has had some 20,000 complaints from property owners dissatisfied with the valuations given them. To view each piece of property is an impossible task, members of the board say, so they plan to use a sales ratio study they have made.

What the board intends to do, according to Bernard Bannon, one of its members, is endeavor to value all property at 50 per cent of the fair market value. If this is done, he said, so that the entire county can show an assessment on that basis it can be assigned a factor of one by the Department of Government Affairs at Springfield.

A factor of one would mean that the assessed value would be the fair market value.

Some of the townships have been assessed under the 50 percent figure, it was reported, some have been assessed more and some approximately correct.

The board of review hopes to equalize the valuations and within 30 to 60 days will send owners a notice of the new assessed valuation for each of the 120,000 parcels of real estate in the county for the 1971 tax year.

The board will then send an abstract of its figures to the Department of Government Affairs for approval, and, it hopes, a factor of one.

The figures would then go to the county clerk's office where they would be used to establish the tax rates for each of the taxing bodies that has filed a levy. It will require a month, perhaps to the report by Frankfort and Will County police.

The planes were the property of Everett Heatherwick, Orland Park, who has an implement business in Green Garden; James Tilsy, Mokena, Lyle Nelson, a Tinley Park attorney, and Al Baggs, also of Tinley. The planes were tied down outside the hangars.

The vandals struck sometime after 9:30 Thursday night and 7 a.m. Friday.

A similar incident was reported at the Willis Howell Airport on Laraway Road in New Lenox Township, about 10 days earlier.

Plane reward offered

FRANKFORT — A $500 reward has been offered for the apprehension and conviction of the party or parties who damaged four planes at the Frankfort Airport on Center Road last Thursday night.

There was damage to instruments and wing surfaces that has been estimated at several thousand dollars, according to the report by Frankfort and Will County police.

Jaycees plan for the future

ORLAND PARK — The Jaycee Chapter for this community is still in organizing status, however, those working to begin the group have started planning ahead.

Roger Jorgensen, one of the young men who are launching the Orland group, said the chapter has made initial contact with the Orland Park Police Department and have begun plans to work with the department on a community-wide program.

The Jaycees will meet again Tuesday, Aug. 8, 8 p.m., at the village's new administration center, 143rd Street and Park Lane.

Men between the ages of 18 and 40, who are interested in becoming involved in the development of Orland Park, are invited to attend the Aug. 8 meeting.

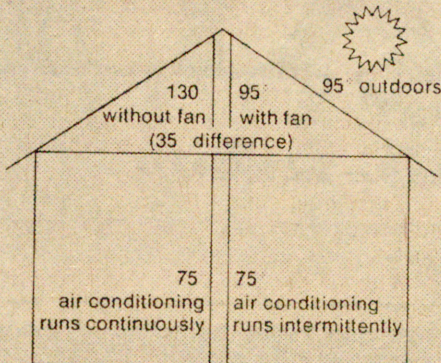

Members of the Orland group met Tuesday of this week with the Oak Forest Jaycee Chapter to become familiar with chapter meetings and organization. The Oak Forest Jaycees are extending the Orland Park Chapter.

Tuesday evening of last week, July 25, Oak Forest Jaycee Ray Gamel met with the Orland group to detail the Jaycee organization to members and proposed members of the new Orland chapter.

How an attic fan can take some of the load off your air conditioning.

If you've been up in your attic on a summer day, you know how hot it gets. All that heat up there is what makes it so tough to cool the downstairs—even with air conditioning.

Well, here's a hint: install an attic fan. It will pull that hot, dead air out of your attic. In fact, as you can see in the diagram, it can reduce your attic temperature by as much as 35 degrees.

Your air conditioner doesn't have to work as hard. It doesn't switch on as often or run as long. You're just as comfortable, yet you're saving money (and doing your bit to conserve power when everyone needs it most).

By the way, even without air conditioning, an attic fan can make a difference. Contact your heating or air conditioning contractor for the attic fan installation that's best for your home.

Mini-bikers beware

TINLEY PARK — Mini-bike owners beware!

With a steady flow of complaints being received by the Tinley Park Police Department about illegal use of minibikes, Chief Kenneth O'Brien announced that his department will immediately begin rigid enforcement of the law.

Police reports show mini-bikes have been driving on residents' lawns as well as through fields and prairies.

O'Brien said mini-bikes are not allowed on public streets or sidewalks and may only be operated on private property with permission of owners.

The chief warned that violators can expect the mini-bikes to be confiscated and brought to the police station.

O'Brien said he also will make an appeal to the courts to become more rigid on the illegal use of mini-bikes.

Street dance set for Aug. 12

OAK FOREST — Dancing, game booths for all ages and "plenty of good food and refreshments" are on the billing for the seventh annual Ginger Wood street dance.

The Ginger Wood Homeowner's Association will sponsor the afternoon and evening event Saturday, Aug. 12, at the corners of Hawthorne and Laramie Streets in the Oak Forest subdivision.

The game booths will open at 2 p.m. and the dancing will begin at 9 a.m. with music provided by the Four Verse-A-Tills.

Co-op discusses delinquent bills

SOUTHWEST — Board Members of Southwest Special Education cooperative met Thursday morning and during the regular monthly meeting discusses the matter of delinquent co-op bills.

Know to handle unpaid bills, "Something that has not come up before said Director Benjamin Braun, was deliberated on until finally the motion to demand payment was tabled. Many details need to be ironed out concerning the collection of overdue co-op bills and the entry of these on the co-op budget records.

District 143 1/2 is $12,000 in arrears and co-op bylaws specify a penalty of two-thirds percent per month, but because such collection would establish policy, Zenon Sykuta, chairman, suggested caution in pressing for collection at this time. "Each district's problems are different."

John Flynn, superintendent of high school District 228, commented, "On one occasion District 228 didn't pay their bill for two months; however, the motion for a late penalty came after this."

Braun informed the board that a building commission is to explore the construction of special education facilities and attention was called to a proposal of five items. This included:

1. the utility of one building on the event that the co-op should split;
2. this building should be constructed with $1,000 worker money, not from the 2 cent tax levy;
3. a consulting architect should begin to move towards building plans;
4. approval must be given by the executive board and the administrating districts;
5. the Building Committee is to present addendum recommendations for the executive board's approval.

Once again, Sykuta cautioned about the wording of the proposal. He said it should state that there is one co-op, and mention of the facility's use by a "split co-op" should come only after and when this split has occurred.

The matter of whether or not there will be a co-op split has not progressed to this date. Said Elden Finley, superintendent of District 127 1/2, "We need definite commitments by the various boards of education on this splitting possibility — where they'll go and other specific details. This hasn't even been done."

The Reorganization Committee has been working on restructuring administrative costs, and its budget recommendations are to be presented at the August meeting.

There was lengthy discussion on a depreciation formula for co-op transportation vehicles. Prior to a policy on depreciation, capital purchases of buses or vans were charged equally to the participating districts. Some school district's used transportation, others did not.

A pay-as-use fund built up the reserve for purchasing capital equipment. There is now $16,000 in this fund. A new bus or van would be purchased out of this, and if the cost is greater than the reserve the excess is split among the districts.

The board settled for a depreciation schedule the same as the state's — 6 3/10 percent of the original cost.

Dist. 228 reflects on housing project

MIDLOTHIAN — Elaborate Zoning Commission prospects for a Country Club Hills development was presented by Sup. John Flynn to the District 228 Board Tuesday night, July 25.

He noted that "We are not expected to take action on this, but are only to be made aware of what's happening."

The community of Apple Tree, located in East Hazel Crest and Country Club Hills will have single family homes of one quarter to one fifth acre sites, and 441 acres are to be developed as industrial, commercial, townhouses and condominiums, with a possible elementary school, if re-zoned by the Country Club Hills village.

Flynn explained that any property not used for housing is a help to the school district because it alleviates a crowded school population.

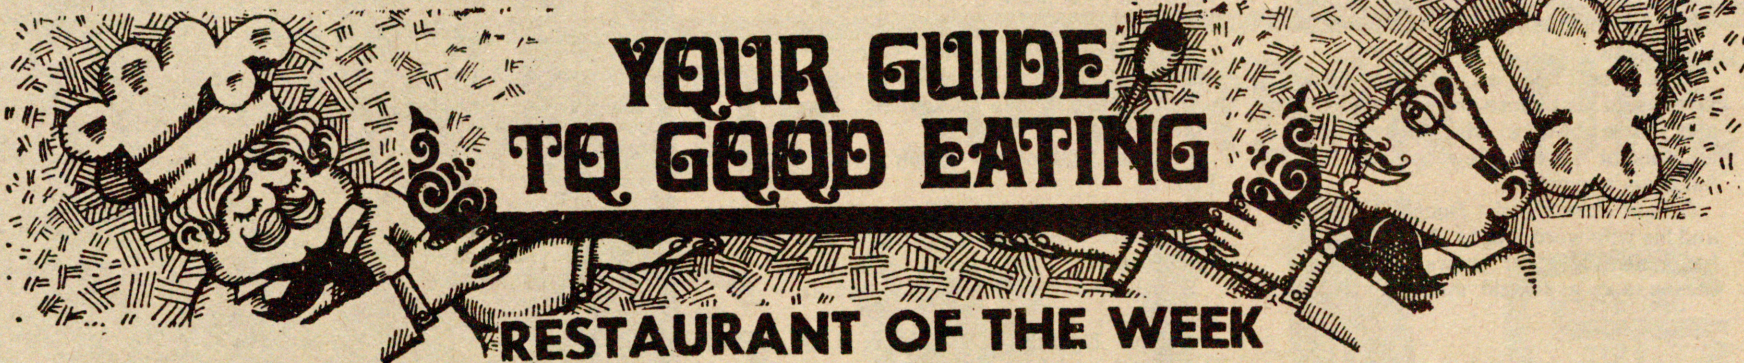

Flynn also reviewed the Country Club Hills Park District request for playground space. A diagram by the Park District, which did not have a representative at the meeting, showed the desired playground location to be unsatisfactory due to a hazardous drop-off on the property and its proximity to the track field and bleachers.

After some deliberation the board settled on the bids for tiling the Hillcrest

High School swimming pool deck and redoing the Bremen High School gym floor. The Illinois Tile Company received the low bid of $11,530 to tile the pool deck.

It was decided that W. A. Boettcher receive the bid for the gym floor, even though this was not the lowest bid entered. The board, on the recommendation of Peter Milbratz of Orput-Orput & Associates and Emmett Boyer, District 228 building and grounds director, agreed to give the $37,330 job to Boettcher because of the superior quality of the floor structure and its permanent finish which will cut down on maintenance.

Milbratz announced that Orput-Orput has hired a roofing consultant to inspect the leaking roof at Oak Forest High School now in construction.

Everything is set for the two young men, but at the last minute, the millionaire aunt sends word that she will have to defer her visit. With no hope in sight, the young men dress a friend to impersonate the elderly lady.

Charley's aunt, the impostor, is played by Br. Edward Noonan and the real Charley's aunt, who unexpectedly shows up, is played by Barbara Powell.

Through a series of events, the impostor and the real aunt bring the production to comic confusion. Performances for this production are at 8 p.m. except for Saturdays, which features performances at 6:30 p.m. and 9:30 p.m.

Individual tickets are priced at $2.50 each with student and senior citizen tickets at $2 each. For further information, call 838-0500.

the Fence Post Letters to the Editor

Editor:

After perusing your article on Hoffman Rosner's Frankfort Square, I got the impression Hoffman Rosner was being painted with a shingle saying, "BEWARE! Roguish Corporation". I vehemently disapprove of this image. I also resent your reporter traveling to Bolingbrook and West Lake in search of satisfied Hoffman Rosner homeowners, when he could have taken a sampling here in Frankfort Square.

When my husband and I examined the models, we were impressed with the practical layout of the house, the fine quality materials used as well as the added features included in the total price. These factors reinforced our trust in the reputable corporation of Hoffman Rosner. The corporation definitely gave us a lot of house for our money.

Mr. James L. Sheehy discussed the options available to us and reminded us of the option signs posted in the model. He also explained the map of the total project displayed in the sales office. There was a pond but no park situated east of Greenfield. As future homeowners, we made inquiry upon inquiry concerning our investment. All of our questions were answered with documented proof.

If any homeowners feel they were tricked or misled, I feel they themselves did not examine the contract and its ramifications sufficiently. When a person is purchasing a new car, he makes sure he knows what he is getting in that car. The same principle should be applied when buying a house.

On the day of our key inspection, Mr. George Baaske explained the service policy of Hoffman Rosner and assured us of his prompt attention in these matters. Two days after we moved in, repairs were coming to correct minor disorders we noticed on our inspection. Within two weeks all our service slips were taken care of. The same service was granted on our 60 day inspection with the exception of one matter concerning a driveway. I am confident this will be remedied in due time.

There are always two or more sides to every issue. Mr. Neiheisel and his neighbors do have some justified complaints as all of us do with anything new. But, problems can be resolved through reasonable efforts not by passing the buck in emotion. I urge every homeowner in Frankfort Square to reappraise his home and compare it with other new homes on the market today in the same price range, and decide if he was the recipient of a house made of promises or a house of solid material and honest transactions.

MRS. JEROME J. PANZER
Frankfort Square

Our society, too adult oriented?

Is our society becoming just a teeny bit "adult" oriented?

For the first time in a five-year history, the Tinley Park District is in a financial position to offer adult programs. Children's programs have always been available.

Now, we have absolutely nothing against children's programs.

However, if possible, it is nice for adults to have equal opportunity in community programs.

Granted, children's programs serve a purpose. They get the kids out of the house.

But, wouldn't it be nice once in a while, for the parents to get out of the house — together.

The Mrs. Jaycees canvassed the village to inquire into interest of adult programs through the park district. Besides the usual female and male type "dividing of the sexes mish-mash," the park district came up with a rather extensive list of programs in which both sexes could participate at the same time. (togetherness is not a thing of the past, contrary to the popular myth being perpetrated by certain women liberation groups and other anti-women liberation groups.)

The park district list includes volleyball, dancing, square dancing, oil painting, theater and drama, beginning guitar, first aid, bridge and mixed card games, stamp and coin collecting, antiques, and senior Red Cross life saving.

The programs will be held at the public schools and activities can be located at specific schools in the village area having the greatest interest.

O.K., adults, let's see how much response our park district receives for its efforts in providing "something to do beside hanging around the house."

Cool caper at youth center

Tinley Park Police

July 25 — Vandals broke into the concession stand at Memorial Park, 171st Street and 66th Ave. All the concession goods and equipment such as candy, ice cream, hot dog steamer, and coffee pot, were destroyed. The vandals also left a water faucet on causing the floor to become completely soaked.

July 25 — Russell E. Laycoax, 17408 S. 69th Ave., was charged for resisting a peace officer and aggravated battery, after he struck Officer D.J. Shanto.

Events leading to the incident began when police received a call from Mrs. Laycoax, who said her husband refused her entrance to their apartment.

It was after some discussion that Laycoax allegedly struck Shanto in the jaw, and locked himself in a bedroom. Police finally forced down the door and arrested Laycoax.

Laycoax was released on a $1,000 bond and is scheduled to appear in Tinley Park court Sept. 13.

Construction workers later reported windows were broken on a back hoe which was parked at the site.

July 29 — What would have been a routine traffic stop by police turned out to bring more serious charges against Virginia Hotwagner, 16835 S. Willow Lane.

Mrs. Hotwagner was charged with making an improper turn, eluding a police officer, resisting arrest, battery and not having a valid drivers license.

While on patrol Officers David Deahl and Louis Jogman noticed a car driven by Mrs. Hotwagner ride up on a curb while making a turn at 174th Place and Oak Park Avenue.

Police turned on red warning lights in an attempt to stop Mrs. Hotwagner, but she continued to proceed at a high rate of speed according to police reports.

Police finally stopped Mrs. Hotwagner at 172nd Place and 67th Court. When told by police that she was under arrest, Mrs. Hotwagner became abusive and kicked police.

She is scheduled to appear in Tinley Park Court Sept. 13.

Carnival fun Saturday

WESTHAVEN — A neighborhood carnival sponsored by the Westhaven Homeowners Association will be held Saturday, Aug. 5, from 1 until 4 p.m. in the Tekton parking lot at 159th Street and Haven Avenue.

Tommy Marshall will serve as ring master, he will be assisted by Jan and Debbie Aldrich. Also helping with the events will be Marilyn and Joella Marfoe.

The carnival will feature such games as ring toss, bean bag toss, football throw and for the small fry, a merry go round. All proceeds will go to aid the fight against muscular dystrophy, and related diseases afflicting millions.

The children got the idea for the carnival while watching television personality Bill Jackson (BJ) who is promoting the muscular dystrophy carnivals on his "Cartoon Towne" show on Channel 32.

Last year in cooperation with Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America 28,143 carnivals were held by children across the country and over $755,657 was raised.

Injury to child brings signs

WESTHAVEN — Only after Anne Ogren, 5, of 16101 Haven was struck by a car July 15th, were signs stating "Slow Down" erected in Westhaven.

Anne was walking her puppy at the time, when the animal escaped and Anne dashed into the street to retrieve it. The car was in the process of stopping when Anne ran into it's side and bounced off.

Neighbors called an ambulance and Anne was rushed to Palos Community Hospital, where she was under observation over the weekend.

The only injuries Anne suffered were a swollen lip, bruises, and scratches. The car's driver lives in the village.

After Anne was hit, mothers gathered their children to picket Mayor Whitaker's home for speed signs. After the incident, The Westhaven Civic Improvement Association erected signs. Mrs. Ogren was "glad the signs went up."

Jaycees fail to 'pull off job'

WESTHAVEN — Cook County Sheriff's police hastened to the Sherwood Hills model homes in Westhaven to arrest 20 people trying to get inside the model homes Monday, July 31st at 8:30 p.m.

The alarm proved to be a false one, however. Someone in the village had called the police, used Mayor Whitaker's name and stated that 20 people were breaking into the model homes. Mayor Whitaker was not at home. The 20 people were members of the Jaycees, who were told that the door of the model home would be unlocked for use as a meeting place.

The Jaycees had proceeded to the Westhaven Village Hall for their meeting, after waiting half an hour to gain permission to enter the model.

Five or six squad cars were called to the scene, but arrived on a peaceful village.

Scariano visits Westhaven

WESTHAVEN — Now that Tekton, the board of trustees, and Mayor Curtis Whitaker have become big news, Westhaven has become a village that people have heard about.

Anthony Scariano state representative from Park Forest has recently become interested in the problems of Westhaven, met with Whitaker; Dennis Ward, building inspector; Emmery Harmon, from Tekton; David Zajicek, Tekton's attorney; Bob Scott, chairman of the Westhaven Civic Improvement Association; and 30 residents Sunday, July 30.

During the tour, which lasted five hours, Scariano said many people's problems had changed into a political issue.

Mayor Whitaker seemed to be Zajicek's favorite subject. According to Scott, Zajicek repeatedly made unfriendly remarks to the Mayor during the tour.

Scariano told Tekton that if the promises weren't kept to repair walks and homes by an August 31st agreement, that he would return to Westhaven to "raise Cain."

The tour of the village caused favorable reactions among the homeowners. People were delighted that at last someone was concerned about Westhaven's problems. Every homeowner was happy to admit Scariano into their homes, and to speak with him.

Overall, the tour was a success, and now the problems of Westhaven have been brought to the attention of a state representative.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER
BY JIM HIRSCH

Let's suppose you knew one of the top, most highly paid advertising executives in the country. Let's suppose you knew he faced a conflict of interest between his conscience and his well paying job. Let's suppose you knew he was a former chairman of the executive committee of The American Cancer Society. Let's suppose you knew he was a former, long time chain smoker and let's suppose you also knew he actively promoted cigarette sales in the past. Let's suppose you knew he became convinced, after long indecision, there was a link between cigarette smoking and lung cancer. (Whether there is or not, is beside the point for the purpose of this story.) Let's suppose he asked you what he should do; whether he should disregard his conscience and continue to exploit cigarette sales or whether he should resign his high position and quit his top salaried job. What would you tell him to do?

The chairman of the board of the second largest advertising agency in the world made his own decision. He quit his job. By his action, he proved one can be an idealist and a realist at the same time. He also proved actions speak louder than words when trying to be "my brother's keeper".

OF 'light-up' program over

OAK FOREST — The City of Oak Forest has just concluded what Clerk James D. Pauly feels was a successful "Light Up" program. Pauly, working with Art Smith, the District Superintendent for Northern Illinois Gas Company set up a program whereby all citizens of Oak Forest were invited to visit the City Hall and pick up needed items to put their gas lamps in proper working order.

Over six hundred people responded. They were given everything from gas mantles for various types of lamps to glass panels and chimneys. Over 2400 items in total were passed out.

Because of the fine acceptance of the program this year, Clerk Pauly stated that he again would propose a second program of this nature next year; possibly in conjunction with clean-up week.

QUIT HORSEING AROUND!

Making the most on your money takes horse sense—not horse play! It takes the ability to accurately judge an investment's security and returns... before you make the investment, not afterward.

The prospect of earning 6% per annum on a $10,000, 2-year savings certificate, and 5 3/4% on a $5000, 1-year certificate is a good deal—even if risk were involved. But at Lake Shore Savings we assure you high returns on your investment without the necessity of crossing your fingers and hoping for a winner. And we remove the element of chance: your funds are insured to $20,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation. You don't have to saddle yourself with a weak investment.

But if you're looking for excitement... if you enjoy the feeling of your blood pressure rising and your stomach gnarling, well... that's a horse of a different color!

Plan Z — 'Home'

With the sixth and concluding article in HERALD Reporter Gert Gallagher's account of a weekend on bivouac with the Army Reserves our reporter concludes she would not make a "real reservist".

By Gertrude Gallagher
CAMP MC COY, WIS. — You have to hand it to the Army and Air Force. If Plan A doesn't work, put in Plan B. For example, Sgt. Long had ready and with him 20 lesson plans prepared to teach classes if rain prevented effective firing of the GUN.

This ability to cope and adapt in adversity was needed as we headed for the airport Sunday morning. Unbelievable mechanical difficulties plagued the small convoy of jeeps and trucks.

Heading up the ramp to the Interstate the convoy was halted. One of the jeeps refused to move. Examination showed it needed a new fuel pump. A radio call brought men from camp to take care of it, and the occupants were transferred to one of the buses.

Ready and away we go! Er! No, we aren't ready and we don't go anywhere. One of the buses now won't start.

As a matter of fact, it's on fire! Flames and smoke are billowing out of its front panel. Men quickly bring fire extinguishers and put out the blaze.

Radio messages bring state police and more camp personnel. Passing tourists gape. The men who have left the burning bus now transfer to our bus.

Hurray! We make Volk Field without further mechanical gremlins.

There they are waiting! Those big C-130 planes. We board with the same dispatch as yesterday. Vehicles. Men. Everything ready.

The navigator is not on this flight and I receive an invitation to sit in his seat to view the takeoff and the landing. I'm excited.

We all have headphones and mouthpieces and I can hear everything as I sit strapped in front of the navigational instruments. There is a man outside at the end of a long wire who evidently looks to see how those engines are performing as they're turned on. He and the pilot have a set pattern for turning on each of the four engines.

"Engine 4 clear."
"Turn Engine 4."
"Vr-o-o-m."
"Engine 3 clear."
"Turn Engine 3."
"Vr-o-o-m."
"Engine 2 clear."
"Turn Engine 2."
"Vr-o-o-m."
"Engine 1 clear."
"Turn Engine 1."
Engine 1? Hey, Engine 1? I say there. No Vr-o-o-m from Engine 1.

For 30 minutes pilot, co-pilot, engineer and outside man on the wire tried to encourage Engine 1 to join the group of Vr-o-o-mers. They talked engine drip, fogged, throttle, negative rotation and stop-go. They checked circuit breakers.

Oddly enough Big Gunner, otherwise known as Chicken Lady, was not frightened. For one thing the calm of the crew was reassuring. No sweat. No panic. So the engine won't start. So?

The other planes were waiting our No. 1 plane to take off. The pilot radioed to another plane that he was having difficulty igniting one engine, with the trouble in some exciter box or another out there in the wing.

"What do you suggest Joe," he radioed.

Over my earphones came the reply, "Tell your engineer to get out there with a hammer and hit the box; and if that doesn't work, give it a kick; and if that doesn't start it, get another plane and a maintenance man from O'Hare."

Gee, they could have used my hatpin!

I don't know whether the engineer followed the advice, but Engine 1 refused to start. Major Schaeffe explained the ignition problem to the men and we unloaded to await help from O'Hare. Needless to say a few looked at me as being the albatross in the cockpit.

Three hours later we loaded again on a replacement plane and without further incident flew to Midway.

By now I was pleased to see youth (this is a young man's army) get tired too. They had worked to midnight on a hot Saturday after the early departure, and were up at 4 a.m. on Sunday to clean the GUNS and barracks. The weekend had been strenuous but rewarding. The airmobile operation was "logistically a successful thing" according to Captain Rea.

As one man said, "I love the good life and comfort. But mucking about in less than good cultural conditions on a short term basis is good. We have to shed the veneer of civilization to learn to cope with the unexpected, the elemental."

For weekend soldiers I marveled at the smoothness and professionalism of the entire training operation. Well planned to the last detail, well coordinated with the Air Force, one would hardly suspect this was a group of men who spent the week as carpenters, teachers, mechanics, butchers, lawyers, CPS's, plumbers, etc.

Being a reservist has its pluses not only in maintaining a trained force for home defense, but as a means of personal accomplishment.

Major Julius Attila Horvath is an example of a man who has made the reserves a career and enjoyed it. The dark haired Major who speaks with a Gabor Hungarian accent, was in 1945 a refugee at the age of 11.

He entered the reserves and was commissioned a lieutenant at 21. Major Horvath will shortly retire at 39 years of age after 20 years in the reserves on active duty. He will receive a $750 pension and fringe benefits which he calculates makes his pension worth $1200. monthly. He has finished 3½ years of college while in service and intends to get his degree.

Captain Bob Deutsch is another man who finds the reserves a place of opportunity for a young man. Now 23 Captain Deutsch was first commissioned at 18. He is an artillery expert having commanded an artillery unit in Germany in the regular army at 19. Now an honors student at the University of Illinois Circle Campus he plans to study for a master's degree in mass communication while serving as an aide-de-camp to the commanding general.

Present draft regulations may be revised to allow a man who has received his induction notice to join the reserves or National Guard. When draft calls were at a high level there was a long waiting list of young men trying to get into the reserves before receiving an induction notice. Waiting lists have now disappeared with the low draft calls.

A reservist spends six months on active duty and then five years of meeting one weekend a month. In addition there is a two-week summer training camp. The men are paid $2.80 an hour for an 8-hour day. Sp4 Ted Klimek of Tinley Park commutes to Morris each day in his job as a research chemist. He agrees reserve pay isn't overwhelming, "but it does help pay for the gas." Promotions are dependent on length of time served as well as merit.

My family greeted me with flags waving and house wrapped in

Engine No. 1 never got started but the calmness of the Army Reservists reassured Reporter Gert Gallagher on the flight home. Those on the C-130 included (from left) Sgt. Glenn Heller of Westmont, Sgt. Timothy Joseph of Joliet, Sgt. Tim Caveny of Bridgeview, Sgt. George Long of Joliet and Sgt. Bill Schindlerbeck of LaGrange.

"WELCOME HOME, MOM" banners. I really don't think drafting women will catch on. Unless, of course, you get a few Amazon types. Camping out was never high on my "favorite things" list. I was always the Girl Scout mother who volunteered to handle the cookie sales. Besides to be a real reservist I'd have to turn in my SNEAKERS and HATPIN!

Diane sustained the loss of her teeth, two broken arms and two broken legs and other injuries. Hospital reports the possibility that she will need amputation to one arm and leg. At last report, she was in the intensive care unit at St. Francis Hospital, Blue Island.

her with the mounting expenses.

Water study ready

FRANKFORT — The Public Water Commission, made up of representatives from Frankfort, Mokena, New Lenox, Joliet, Rockdale, Lockport and Romeoville, has adopted its budget for the coming fiscal year. Total of expenditures provided for come to $938,000.

According to Robert Broucek, director of the commission, money to operate the commission and its objectives will come through government grants and about $900,000 on interim financing through short term notes.

Broucek was given approval by the commission to start talks with the state and federal governments for grants totaling $2-million. The director also informed the commissioners that the water rate study would be completed in about two weeks and ready for the printer. He said the rates will range from 42 to 54 cents per thousand dollars. Broucek said the report covering probable consumption includes Bolingbrook, Park Forest and Chicago Heights, as well as the communities that make up the commission.

The water commission was formed last year, in May, acting on a study in which these same communities had participated previously which showed a steady decline in the water table.

The commission is looking for another source of water and one of these is the Kankakee River.

The water commission has had its

Kane gets funds

Will is missing out

By Michael J. Flynn

In 1968, the Congress of the United States passed the Omnibus Crime in the Streets Act. This act allocated billions of dollars in federal funds to the 50 states to help them combat the growing crime rate in America.

The federal agency created to administer this program is the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration (LEAA). The LEAA operates in each state in cooperation with a state organization created to administer the state programs. In Illinois, this organization is known as the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission (ILEC).

The ILEC is further refined for administrative purposes into regions and counties of Will, Kankakee, Grundy, Kendall and Kane. The chairman of Region IV of the ILEC is Edward F. Kovar. Kovar is also the chairman of the Kane County Board of Supervisors.

The Will County Law Enforcement Commission chairman is Dennis Jaskowiak and he is also the chief of the Crest Hill Police Department. Jaskowiak is formerly an employee of Region IV of the ILEC and the Will County Sheriff's Office.

Membership on the various county commissions ranges anywhere from 8 to 14 persons and there are frequently sub-committees whose members are not necessarily members of the commission as well. Commission membership is not consistently drawn from among a group of officials, including judges, sheriff's, police chiefs, probation officers, corporate executives to educators, county officials and municipal officials.

LEAA — ILEC funding may be granted to any governmental or private agency program that has shown that it can be effective in reducing the crime rate. County and municipal police departments, courts, jails, probation offices and youth organizations have been receiving the bulk of the funds allocated.

During the 1968-1972 period, ILEC Region IV records show that the sum of $3,857,118 was approved for programs in Kane County. Kane County has an official population of 251,005 which is contained in 15 townships and 24 municipalities. In addition, 1973 Region IV programs call for the expenditure of $1,419,000 in Kane County. Neither of the above figures includes a sum of $500,000 which was allocated to municipalities in Kane County by the ILEC — Region IV.

During the same period of time, 1968 to 1972, the total sum of $298,795 was approved by ILEC Region IV for programs in Will County. The 1973 ILEC Region IV programs call for the expenditure of $414,000 in Will County. The figures for Will county municipalities show that about $200,000 was approved by the ILEC Region IV. It is known to the HERALD that nearly $150,000 of the approved funds for 1972 in Will County will not be funded due to a change in the priorities of the ILEC.

Will County has a population of 249,825 which is contained in 24 townships and 26 municipalities. It has the fastest growth rate of any of the five counties in region IV.

In total, funds equalling nearly $8 million have been approved for expenditure in the five counties making up Region IV of the ILEC. $5,301,715 of these funds will be expended in Kane County alone, nearly 70 percent of the funds allocated. Will County is shown to have received $706,795 during the same period. Less, of course, the $150,000 which will not be funded.

The source for the information presented here is a publication issued for limited circulation by Region IV of the ILEC on June 14, 1972. The publication is titled "Programs for Progress".

We do not suggest that Kane County does not have a serious need for all of the funds received by them. They are growing just as Will County is growing. Kovar is no doubt quite an authority on ILEC procedures and requirements for funding and he no doubt has a fine reputation and is most certainly respected in his community.

Kovar is the chairman of the Region IV of the ILEC and of the Kane County Law Enforcement Commission, in that order. He has a responsibility to see to it that funds under his jurisdiction are spent as equitably and evenly as possible taking into consideration population, territory and need.

If the Will County Law Enforcement Commission officials do not understand their responsibilities, they should call upon the paid staff of the region to show them how funds can be obtained. The ILEC programs provide funds to the regions so they can hire competent personnel to assist the volunteer commission members and other organizations to apply properly for funds and to make clear the services that the ILEC can fund if it is requested to do so.

The taxpayers of Will County have paid for their own court house, jail and new sheriff's facility from their own tax funds. Kane County has a new detention center, court house and sheriff's facility paid for almost completely by ILEC funds. It is time that Will County real estate taxes are given a rest and that a little more federal funds return to their source.

It was the intent and purpose of the legislators in creating the ILEC to give all communities the equal opportunity to "up grade" their police, court and detention facilities to a level that is more effective and humane than in the past. Such obvious inequities in the administration of this law demonstrates how the people of all other communities can be short changed.

History group needs support

FRANKFORT — The group formed to study and record the history of the Frankfort area has decided upon its name. At a meeting in the district library last Friday the name, Frankfort Area Historical Society was adopted.

It was stressed by the organizers that membership in the society is not restricted to residents of the Village of Frankfort. Anyone in the area is eligible.

"Some people think they have to have a knowledge of the history of the area to become a member of the society," said Miss Marie Tewes, the secretary and reporter," but this is not true. The society, in time, hopes to dig out all the facts and legends that make up the history of the area. All that is necessary to become a member is to have an interest in the area's history."

So far only one person has come up with a photograph out of the past. It is of one of the interurban cars that once served the Village of Frankfort, Miss Tewes said. More photos are sought.

Anyone with photos or other mementos of the past that they wish preserved has been asked to get in touch with Ralph Eisenbrandt, the chairman, Miss Tewes or Donald Witt.

Witt is in charge of the photo section and may be reached by calling 469-5938. The society is to meet again Friday night at the library and anyone interested is invited to attend.

Couple take marriage vows at evening church ceremony

Miss Dorothy R. Omland, 10925 LaPorte Rd., Mokena, and Dale W. Weidner, Rt. 2, Noble, Ill. were united in marriage at the Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran church, Mokena, with the Rev. Albers officiating, on June 16, at 7 p.m.

Miss Omland is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Art Omland, Mokena, and Weidner is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Weidner of Noble.

The double ring ceremony was held before an altar with two candelabras on each side.

Susan Horras sang "Oh Perfect Love", and Dean Bressler sang "Wedding Benediction". Both sang the "Wedding Prayer" accompanied by organist Mrs. Yunker.

The bride, who was escorted to the altar by her father, wore a floor length gown of white with empire waist and long sleeves, trimmed with lace and appliques lace. This also bordered the mantilla. The bride's bouquet was of white phalaenopsis orchids, stephanotis, yellow rose buds and baby's breath.

Gay Williamson was maid of honor with Susan Van Plew, a cousin, and Ruth Kremer as bridesmaids. All wore voile floor length dresses with long sleeves and scooped neck, of a flower print in white, gold and brown. All wore picture hats in white with gold ribbon, white sandals and carried white baskets with yellow daisies, majestic daisies and mums.

Tom Turner was best man and attendants and ushers were John Schwartz and Tom Deters.

The bride's mother wore a pink knit sleeveless dress with matching coat, white gloves and shoes and the groom's mother wore aqua geometric knit dress with short sleeves, white gloves, shoes and purse. The bride's maternal grandfather, Leslie Argile, also attended.

The reception for 90 people was held in the church with the bridal table decorated with flower baskets. Margaret Turner and Mary Ann Rentfrow served cake, Ruth White prepared punch, fruitbowl, variety of salads and cold meats.

The newlyweds are making their home at University Apartment 145, South 4th St., Charleston, Ill. The bride is a student at Eastern Illinois University and will graduate Aug. 10. The groom will be employed by Unibuilt Modular Homes in Charleston this fall. He was previously a junior high teacher in Mokena.

Mokena revises Weber approval

MOKENA — At the meeting of the Mokena village board last week the decision reached at the previous meeting require single family dwellings along all of the east side of Midland Avenue was rescinded.

Robert Mason, of Success Research Consultants, village planners, told the board that Revere Road on which the proposed condominiums would front along the south end of the Weber Planned Unit Development would be a buffer for neighboring property owners.

"Here will be an 80-foot street," Masoason said, "and traffic from the condominiums will empty on that, not directly on Midland Avenue."

Weber's architect had planned for a row of single family residences along Midland Avenue to Revere Street, with the condominiums south of that. At the previous meeting the village board elected to have the space between Revere Road and the south end of the subdivision taken up with two more single family homes, although the planner had recommended originally the plan the board has now elected to follow.

The board has decided to hire a business administrator to aid the elected officials in a lot of trouble-shooting they now handle. To this end an appropriation of $4,000 was set up for a half year's pay for such a person, working on a parttime basis.

an immediate village to serve with sewer and water.

For example, William Bolker, a New Lenox builder, is asking the Illinois Commerce Commission for a permit to operate a sewer and water works to serve his and neighboring proposed subdivisions.

George Barber, village engineer, recommended that Gallagher Asphalt Co. be given the job of seal coating, scarifying and strengthening various village streets on a bid of $2,100, and that paving work go to Persico Paving, for $8,440.25. Crown Trygg's bid on this phase was $8,728. The engineer's estimate was $8,240. On the job that went to Gallagher Crown Trygg bid $2,340.

Gibraltar Fence Co. was given the job of enclosing the water tower with a fence, as recommended by the insurance company. The winning bid was $556. Advance Fence bid $635 and Lansing Fence, $1,025.

On recommendation of Trustee Chester Ebert the village will buy a devise called a locator, to locate buffalo boxes at the service lines. It will cost $105.95.

Approval was given for the purchase of $188 worth of tools for the sewage treatment plant. No action was taken on a proposal to buy a large gasoline driven pump to remove water from excavations. The cost quoted is $532, plus freight.

The Mokena fire department has recommended all work at Pheasant Ridge, a Hillcrest Builders development on the west edge of Mokena be stopped until the water line is installed.

It was decided that work on the Pheasant Ridge condominiums be stopped until the water situation is cleared up but that the builders be permitted to proceed with their five model homes for which they have permits. Hillcrest Builders have drilled a well on their acreage.

Letters of thanks have been sent by the village to the people who donated time and material for removal of old foundations and the grading of the parking mall along Front Street.

Jack Armin brought a bulldozer to the job and after uprooting the heavy concrete foundations graded the lot: John Cernauskas donated a truck and driver to haul away the debris, and Wilber Teske of the market across the street furnished the nylon roped necessary to get the job done. Eventually the lot the lot is slated to be blacktopped, laned, and concrete traffic stops installed.

Trustee Robert Teske reported that it would cost $200 to connect the gas and hot and cold water service to the room used by the senior citizens group at the Zodiac Club. The board authorized that the work be done.

Mrs. Charles Hostert appeared before the board again to ask when the work would be done on the drainage problem on 195th Street. Village Engineer Barber explained that a drawing done by an engineer for one of the interested parties, has shown a 30-foot wide cut rather than the 10-foot wide easement granted by Albert Feeley.

The other party involved in the drainage dispute is Mrs. Mary Halfacre. She and the apartment owned by Feeley are side by side on the north side of the street. Mrs. Hostert lives on the south side of the street and said that her proside of the street and said that her property was getting the run off from the other side of the thoroughfare.

Village Attorney George E. Sangmeister told Mrs. Hostert that she has a right to file a law suit against Mrs. Halfacre on her own if she did not want to wait any longer for village action.

Sangmeister is to call Feeley's attorney, Tomas Feelan, and set up a conference between Mrs. Halfacre, Feeley and representatives of the village board to ascertain if Feeley will permit further extension of the proposed swale on his property.

There were words between Roy Richardson, a former village trustee, and police about double parked trucks delivering goods to his store. Richardson complained about water running into his store after a recent heavy rain.

Mayor Will Tuttle said he would have the catchbasin in front of the store cleaned out.

A bill repair of a sewer line, including removal of tree roots and replacement of some tile that was too small, came to $412. The question before the board was if the village was responsible for payment, or if the property owner, Mrs. John G. Bettenhausen, 11027 Cross St., was, since the trouble was on her property. It was her responsibility to pay the bill, the board decided.

Mrs. Bettenhausen asked that a stop sign be erected at Union and Third streets and the traffic lanes on Front Street be repainted. Trustee Kenneth Warning thanked her for suggesting it and said the work will be done.

Soil and water requirements for Illinois Conservation Act

By Virginia Sassa

JOLIET — The Will-South Cook Soil and Water Conservation District, along with 97 companion districts throughout the State of Illinois, is being charged with the responsibility of implementing a new amendment to the Illinois Soil and Water Conservation Act.

This amendment of Dec. 3, 1971, requires that all petitions for zone changes that are filed after July 1, 1972, and are within an established soil and water conservation district, must also be filed with the board of that soil district.

The section of the law that pertains to zone changes reads:

"Sec. 22.02 a. The soil and water conservation district shall make all natural resource information available to the appropriate county agency or municipality in the promulgation of zoning ordinances or variances.

"Any person who petitions any municipality or county agency in the district for variation, amendment or other relief from that municipality or county zoning ordinances or proposes to subdivide vacant or agricultural lands therein shall furnish a copy of such petition or proposal to the Soil and Water Conservation District.

"The Soil and Water Conservation District shall be given not more than 30 days from the time of receipt of the petition or proposal to issue its written opinion concerning the petition or proposal and submit the same to the appropriate county agency or municipality for further action. . ."

Municipalities must determine what their boundaries were at the time of the District's organization — Sept. 6, 1946 for Will County and March 23, 1953 for South Cook (all of Cook County south of 22nd Street.)

There are 25 cities and villages in the district in Will County and 72 in South Cook. Since the law went into effect the district office here has received many calls from village authorities who have been completely unaware of a conservation district.

There have been many annexations since the district was organized and village officials are discovering that much of their areas are required to comply with the new law.

The purpose of the law is to utilize natural resources to the best advantage through proper zoning and thus prevent home owners and developers from the hazards in building.

The District's opinion will be based on a thorough survey of the petitioner's land by a competent consultant. The consultant's report will cover all soil and watershed information from an on-site investigation and use of maps.

The Conservation District is a non-profit local unit of government endowed with the purpose of the conservation of all natural resources. Fees have been established to cover the consultant and secretarial costs, according to William Stelter, Tinley Park, chairman of the Board of Directors.

Other members of the board are Earl Siemsen, Monee, vice-chairman; Connor B. Shaw, Monee, secretary; Hugh Pilcher, Plainfield, treasurer, and Bruce Anderson, Lockport.

The board is slated to meet at 8 p.m. Wednesday, July 26, at the Farm Bureau Building, 100 Manhattan Road, Joliet. It is expected that it will set a policy as to the scope of the work and the fees.

According to information given villages the petition for zone changes must be accompanied by a check for $100 if the land involved is five acres or less and $1 per acre for all over the minimum figure.

It also has been reported that the Conservation District will not be interested in minor zoning changes or variances and that the petitioner will be so informed and his fee returned, except possibly for a nominal amount to cover handling.

Conrad Shaw, Green Garden, who has a major in hydrology and a minor in geology, has been retained as consultant for the Conservation District to handle these zoning matters, it was reported.

The report will show whether the land will accept septic systems, the drainage, whether it is subject to flooding and other useful information to a builder and prospective home buyer.

The conservation district has endeavored to have developers and municipal authorities use the district's investigations, without charge, for many years. It was reported at the district office there has been more demand for this information in the past two years than ever before.

Said one farmer who is familiar with the archives of the district: "Looking at these maps, with their several overlays, for an hour will give a man more information about a farm than spending a day walking over it."

On second thought Look who's talking

By Glenn Logan

We read a piece in the papers the other day to the effect that the Screen Actors Guild—or at least its members in Chicago—was blowing the whistle on the TV industry.

The guild contends that the public deserves better at the hands of the tube industry than six months of reruns. Originally, the guild claims, reruns were supposed to take the place of the regular programs through the 13 weeks of summer.

Now, it points out, the rerun season begins in March and continues to October. It is a bit difficult for yours truly to see the Screen Actors Guild in a bleeding heart role but according to the piece in the paper the guild has been circulating petitions at shopping centers and business places which it plans to send to the Federal Communications Commission, demanding that the output of reruns be curtailed.

There is no telling what action the FCC may take, if any, but what will it solve?

As far as yours truly has been able to ascertain there is no law on the books of any of the states, any of the municipalities, counties or the federal statutes that compels anyone to watch television. Also the manufacturers of TV receivers make them with a lot of knobs or buttons that one may turn, push or pull. One of these gadgets turns the set on, and if you turn, push or pull it in the opposite direction you turn the set off.

So if a person looking through the list of offerings on TV programs doesn't see anything that looks as if it might be interesting, he doesn't turn the set on. If he finds himself confronted by a big, mean looking guy, with a big, mean looking club in his hand, pointing to the "on" switch and indicating to turn it on, this citizen should consult a head-shrinker or move, because if the man is really there then the viewer is living in a very bad neighborhood and should seek a better one.

Actually it is as simple as that, either don't turn the set on or if, it is going, turn it off. What the Screen Actors Guild real motive is I have no idea. There are a lot of professional bleeding hearts, individuals and groups, some of which are in the upper ranks of politics, who have large incomes, mansions, horses, yachts—even tenderloin steaks for large dinner parties—through cashing in on their zeal for public welfare. Maybe the Screen Actors Guild wants to get in on the act or maybe it is mad at someone. Anyway, it has announced that in the public's behalf it is striving to reduce the output of reruns by telecasters.

Maybe the guild's first step should be to take a poll of TV watchers and determine what their attitude is on reruns. Who knows what the public wants—including the public. It could be the public likes reruns. For that matter, just what is a rerun? Is it a program that has been shown before? And by that we mean a drama, a musical, a so-called situation comedy, vaudeville or movies?

I suppose one shouldn't refer to movies as summer reruns. Maybe there is a special category for movies. Maybe they are perpetual reruns because some of them have been showing since the tube came into being. The station owner found that he could rent a quality film that was ancient to begin with, for 50 bucks, whereas live talent could cost him thousands.

Rerunning old films or the videotapes of old programs could be new stuff to the younger audiences. A rerun could be one man's poison but another man's entertainment. If a program was good enough to be put on the first time it is good enough to show again and a lot of it is better than the fresh stuff now being served on the channels.

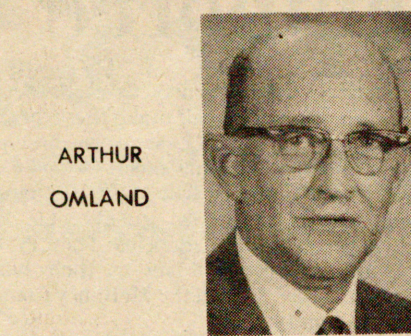

Look at the stage shows that run for months, some for years, and the same thing is true of some movies. People go back to see them many times. Those could be said to be reruns, or maybe it's the people who go back who are the reruns.

Baseball games, football games, golf matches, auto races and other sports seen on televisions are reruns, in a manner of speaking. The plot is the same for all—to win. The characters share the ones we are accustomed to, with one in the hero's role today, and another taking the part tomorrow.

The political conventions and the political campaigns can really be classified under reruns but we watch and listen like it is all fresh and new.

Today's new program is tomorrow's rerun, so just relax and enjoy the parts you like best.

News Briefs

ARTHUR OMLAND

MOKENA — Arthur O. Omland, 10925 LaPorte Road, was honored Wednesday, July 26, for 25 years of service to Montgomery Ward Co. and its customers. He was presented with a wrist watch and a commendation by company officials.

He is employed in service department, starting at the Blue Island store, repairing television sets, installing new ones and putting up aerials. In 1952 he was transferred to the Joliet store where he was head of the service department for 16 years. When the department there was closed in 1968 he was transferred to the Gary store as a TV engineer, promoting good will among customers.

The Omlands moved to Mokena in 1953. He has been active in civic affairs here. Omland is treasurer of the Mokena Park Board, a past president of Lions Club, Chairman of the Red Cross disaster set-up and has spent many years in Boy Scout work. He is a former scoutmaster and is troop committee chairman and institutional representative on Rainbow Council.

MOKENA — A referendum is to be held next month on the proposed purchase of the Walter Yunker building at 11120 Front Street, it was brought out at the recent meeting of the Mokena Village Board.

The village has an agreement with Yunker to purchase the property for $75,000. The property is improved by a large brick building, covering the front half of two lots. These lots on Front Street run to First Street, so there is ample parking room at the rear of the building, it was pointed out.

There is a section at the front of the building that the village would use to house the police. There is ample room in the garage section of the building to store all of the machinery and equipment owned by the village, according to officials.

Under the agreement with Mr. and Mrs. Yunker the village would buy the property under contract over a 10-year period. Under this arrangement the village could levy a special tax to raise the $7,500 yearly payment, plus interest.

At the time the village first announced the agreement officials also explained that if citizens equivalent to one percent of the number of voters at the 1971 village election signed a petition asking that the purchase question be submitted to the voters, a referendum would be called.

There was a petition circulated and filed with the village the day of its recent meeting, it was said. According to those who viewed the petition it does not show the name of the circulator or circulators but there are enough signatures to warrant a referendum. Village officials welcome the referendum, they said, and for that reason did not scan the petition too closely.

The date for the referendum is slated to be announced at the meeting next Tuesday night. Village Attorney George E. Sangmeister was instructed to make the arrangements for the election. It is expected that the judges will be named at the board's next meeting.

MOKENA — The terms of Walter Yunker, Mokena, highway commissioner of Frankfort Township, and Otto Bormet, who holds the same post in New Lenox Township, with the terms all other township highway commissioners elected in 1971, have been extended two years by state statute.

The past session of the general assembly enacted a law extending the terms of these highway commissioners to 1977, instead of ending in 1975.

Unless the omnibus election bill is enacted into law by the legislature which will put the county clerk in charge of all elections, township officials will have charge of the elections next spring at which supervisors, town clerks, town auditors and assessors will be named. Such officials will serve until 1977.

Under the old system the highway commissioners would come up in 1975, a costly process to elect one man in a township election. Now they will be elected with the other township officials.

Town collectors will not appear on the tickets hereafter, as the office has been eliminated by statutes with completion of the present terms of collectors. There is no provision for paying collectors out of township funds and townships no longer receive a fee for collecting taxes.

The county treasurer, who also is the county collector, can hire these town collectors as deputies to collect taxes in outlying townships or he can use area banks as collecting points.

MOKENA — Some 30-hours of free time were expended by Jack Armin, J & R Construction Co., Mokena, last week in digging out old foundations which took up space in the parking mall along Front street and bordering the Rock Island tracks.

Then the entire lot — about two blocks long — was graded and the next step will be blacktopping the surface and painting it for parking.

Concrete car stops will be placed along Front Street to keep cars from protruding into the street. The entrance to the lot will be separate from the exit. Now people drive in from any direction and go out the same way — scattered.

NEW LENOX — Two old structures in the 300 block on Prairie Street, were partially burned Saturday night. Firemen extinguished the blaze before it had opportunity to spread to any nearby homes. Deputy State Fire Marshal Arthur Weber, of Joliet, was called to the scene to make an investigation.

MOKENA — Larry Spiess, who has been employed by the village for several years, has been named acting Superintendent of Public Works. The promotion came following the recent meeting of the village board.

The appointment was made after the village had accepted the resignation of Charles Manhart. Manhart resigned as Superintendent of Public Works for personal reasons, according to the letter.

MOKENA — The Mokena Chamber of Commerce is to hold its annual golf outing Aug. 23 at Silver Lake Country Club, Orland Park.

Tickets are now on sale, it was announced by Anthony Dina Sr., chamber president. Tickets for golf and dinner are $12.50 per person. Dinner tickets alone are $6 a person. Reservations must be made by Aug. 14, Dina said.

Tee off time will be anytime between 6:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. Dinner is scheduled for 7:30, preceded by a cocktail hour beginning at 6:30.

An ad a day and it's OK

MOKENA — The "turnabout" ad ran in the classified section of these papers last week by Donald and Dorothy Clegg, owners and operators of a tavern known as Don and Dot's Corner, 19931 S. Wolf Rd., Mokena, has brought results.

According to Mrs. Clegg, while the ad has caused considerable conversation, no one has popped in to inquire what price was asked for the place and when could they get occupancy. The ad, with a heavy black border and the type, big and black, proclaimed that Don and Dot's Corner "IS NOT FOR SALE."

"I am tired of people coming in and asking if the tavern is for sale," Clegg told the ad-taker. "Now I want to say it is not for sale, in big black type. Maybe they will believe that and stop pestering us. Who started this report that the tavern is for sale, or why he started it, I don't know, but I wish they would stop."

Apparently the ad has had the desired effect. The Cleggs report there have been no pesterers since it appeared.

Merle Bettenhausen,
'I will race again'

TINLEY PARK — "I'll definitely race again. When a man concentrates hard enough on a goal, he can do just about anything."

Proud words from a man nearly killed in a fiery crash less than three weeks ago.

Yet to Merle Bettenhausen, it's just a matter of time before he's back behind the wheel of racing cars.

Merle, 29, is recovering in University Hospital at Ann Arbor, Mich., from injuries received July 16 in an Indy-style race at nearby Cambridge Junction.

He lost his right arm, received third-degree burns, lacerations in the pelvic area, and broken bones in his foot.

Contacted by the HERALD at University Hospital, Merle said he is feeling fine, spirit-wise. But I've got a great deal of pain in my right arm. The doctors can't figure out why the pain is there. Merle said that right now the doctors are making sure that his burns don't become infected and that the rest of his recovery is smooth. He has been taken off the critical list.

About his driving with an artificial limb, Merle said that it would not be without precedent. Mel Kenyon, a championship driver, has lost the use of his fingers and uses a special glove for steering.

"If I can build my left arm back up to its previous strength and find the right kind of artificial arm, I'll be able to drive stock, sprint and hopefully Indy cars again," he said.

Merle said that he will be trying out different kinds of arms. Different types of limbs would be used on different kinds of cars.

When asked if he would be using a specially built car, Merle gave a negative reply. He plans on steering with the artificial arm and shifting with the left arm.

Merle said he will be in the hospital about a month. "Then, I plan on doing a lot of hard work," he said. "And I'll be testing the artificial limbs for steering."

"When asked if he had gotten many cards from Tinley Park, his boyhood home, Merle said, "Frankly, no. I've received over 500 get-well cards, but only about 20 have been from Tinley. And most of those came from relatives."

Tinley boy to run
in sports jamboree

TINLEY PARK — This community will be represented by John Rusthoven in the 17th annual competition of the Illinois Junior Sports Jamboree.

Rusthoven won the trip to state meet as a result of his first place showing in the junior boys 100-yard dash at the region jamboree held recently at Wheaton. The state competition will be Aug. 18-19 in Crystal Lake.

Members of the Tinley Park Jaycee chapter will accompany Rusthoven to the state meet. The Jaycees sponsor the local, regional and state competition in conjunction with the Governor Office of Human Resources and the Community Services Unit of the Illinois Department of Correction's Juvenile Division.

Tinley Park made a good showing in the Wheaton regional meet of the Illinois Junior Sports Jamboree returning home with one second place winner, one fourth, and two fifth place winners, competing against 900 young athletes from 28 other towns.

Results of local entries in the regional meet are as follows:

Vince Insalaco, second place, midget boys 50-yard dash, and fourth place, midget high jump.

Roxanne Van Valey fifth place, intermediate girls 100-yard dash.

Fifth place, 440 yard relay, midget boys, was comprised of Robert Daggy, Stuart Shippe, Richard Renevier and Sandy Brattstrom.

The state meet will bring together more than 500 young athletes from all parts of Illinois. They are the finalists in a statewide competition which began early this summer, with an estimated 40,000 entries in nearly 200 local meets. Finalists, who will make the expense-paid trip to Crystal Lake, were chosen in 10 different regional meets.

The youngsters will make the trip to Crystal Lake as guests of the cooperating state agencies. The Crystal Lake Jaycees will act as their hosts during their stay in the McHenry County community.

Governor Richard B. Ogilvie is expected to greet the youngsters in person at the opening ceremonies. A torch relay, bringing the symbolic flame from Joliet, site of the 1971 meet, to Crystal Lake, is planned to herald the start of the meet.

The young athletes will make the trip by chartered bus, and will be housed in dormitories improvised in the high school and nearby junior high. All competition, both preliminaries and finals, will take place on Saturday, and the youngsters will return home on Sunday morning. A banquet and beach party are planned for Saturday evening, following the competition.

Lincoln-Way title bid ended by Holy Cross

NEW LENOX — Holy Cross ended Lincoln-Way's hopes of a Chicagoland Summer baseball title Saturday, 4-0, in semi-final action. The loss knocked coach Les Coats' team out of a shot at the title game which was scheduled for Lewis College Monday.

Lincoln-Way thus ends its summer season with an 18-7 mark. Holy Cross capitalized on a couple of Knight mistakes chiefly, an error, and a wild pitch, and used a sacrifice fly to post the win.

Jim Roach who took the loss pitched well allowing only five hits and striking out seven. Only two of the four runs scored against him were earned. The Knights collected only three hits.

Holy Cross scored a pair of runs in the fourth. Bob Custardi smacked a long double, which could have gone for a homer, except for a great fielding play by Knight centerfielder Mickey Meit-sner.

Mike Gillespie followed with a bunt back to the mound that Roach couldn't handle and both runners were safe. Gillespie broke for second and was apparently out when shortstop Blake Terkotte took the throw. The ball was jarred loose from Terkotte's glove, however, and Custardi raced home with the first run, and Gillespie took third, where he scored on a sacrifice fly.

Another run scored in the fifth on a triple, and a bad hop single over a pulled in infield.

In the sixth, Holy Cross used a single, stolen base, a wild pitch and an infield out to score the game's final run.

The Knights had won a semi-final berth by beating Downers Grove South 8-4 last Friday. Bob Lindeman was the winning pitcher tossing a six hitter and striking out eight.

Lindeman, Terkotte and Don Krohn paced the Knights' ten hit attack with two hits apiece.

Lenox pony champs

NEW LENOX — The New Lenox team in the Pony League made up of that community plus Mokena, Manhattan, Arbury Hills and Frankfort, won the championship this year in almost perfect fashion. The team had a 14-1 games record.

The team will play its final game, a non-league affair, this Sunday, Aug. 6, when dads are destined to be their prey. Following the game there will be a picnic at the home of Dan Walters, on Roy Street. Roy Street is a block long and extends east off of Cedar Road, and is the first street south of the Penn Central tracks.

At 6:30 p.m. at the picnic, trophies will be given out to the most valuable player, the batting champion and the holder of the mark for runs-batted-in. The most valuable player is selected by a vote of the players themselves. Announcement of the winners of these trophies will not be made until Sunday evening.

The New Lenox team is coached by Gary Pyles, 169 Forest Street. He took over the team last year and it finished second. Now it has the league title.

Meanwhile, some 35 girls are practicing to be cheerleaders for the football teams. Under the supervision of Mrs. Philip Coatatr, Jr., the girls are also getting ready for a season of thrills, which begins in September.

Two tie for Continental lead

TINLEY PARK — Regular season play ended in the Tinley Park Softball League with two clubs claiming the top spot in the Continental Division. The Losers of Teehan Liquors finished on top of the Federal Division two games ahead of the second place Landlovers of Ray Feldner Real Estate.

The Brotherhood of Casey and Wood Sports and the Nickelbag Revised sponsored by Bremen Bank and Trust had identical 16-3 marks in the Continental Division race.

To determine each team's position in the post-season playoffs, the Brotherhood and Nickelbag met in a single game. The Brotherhood came out on top, 6-2, but both teams were scoreless after four innings of play. Rallying for three runs in the fifth, the Brotherhood added three more in the sixth stanza. The Nickelbag tried to come back in their last turn at bat but fell short leaving two runners stranded.

Final regular season play earlier in the week saw the Losers tuning up for the playoffs by shutting out the Hustlers, 23-0, in five innings. The Nickelbag also registered a shutout over the Bears, 16-0. The Latecomers registered a mild upset over the play-off bound Roadrunners, and the Superchiefs downed the Tappers, 15-6. Other action saw the Bombers down the Knights, 12-9, while the Snappers pasted the Lugans, 23-10, in their battle for fourth play-off spot in the Federal division.

Softball playoffs set

TINLEY PARK — The Tinley Park Softball League championship play-offs opened with a full slate of four games. Being played are the quarterfinals which are best two out of three series. The second game of each series was played Tuesday evening, August 1st, at both Tinley Park High School and Mental Health Center fields. Should a third game be necessary in any of the series, it will be scheduled for tomorrow, August 3rd, on the same fields.

Opening round action saw two of the four favorites aking their lumps. The Roadrunners of Ed and Joe's Pizza surprised the 1971 champion Landlovers, 16-6. On the other side of the field the Brotherhood was pounding the Snappers of Red Snapper Tavern, 24-3. Meanwhile, at the Hospital fields the Bombers were avenging an earlier season loss to the Nickelbag Revised while the Losers were holding off the up-start Superchiefs. After jumping off to an early lead, the Bombers matched runs with the Nickelbag and wound up on top, 14-7. The Losers also took an early lead, but the Superchiefs kept the pressure on the Federal Division champ before finally falling, 13-10.

Winners of these quarterfinal series will meet in the semifinals beginning Sunday, August 6th. The series will also be best two out of three playoffs. Pairings will be winner of the Nickelbag Revised-Bombers meeting the victor of the Brotherhood-Snappers set and will be played at the Mental Health Center.

Tinley Park High School will be the site for the semi-final series which will feature the winner of the Losers-Superchiefs match against the winner of the Landlover-Roadrunner series.

War Hawks win 15-14 over park leaders

OAK FOREST — The Oak Forest Park District Softball Team fell off the pace on Monday night, July 24th, at Convent Park in a close game with the War Hawks, losing 15-14.

Sluggish Bill Horn led the Hawks to victory with two doubles, hitting four for four; Rex Kern had three for four with two doubles and Tom Scott three for three with two doubles. For the park Team, Dave Berna and Steve Moss led the batting with four for four and Bob Carlson with three for five. The park team was leading 14-3 in the sixth inning when the Hawks came in with a 12 run sixth, and then shutting the Park out in the seventh to claim the win.

Tuesday, July 25 the Road Runners surrendered their second place standing with a loss to the War Hawks, 24-18. The victorious Hawks were led by Phil Hulben knocking in two homers and batting five for five, Rex Kern with four for five, Chuck Gibson with four for four and Rick Fitzgibbons with a homerun and three for five. The Road Runners scored their 18 runs on 21 hits led by Bill Richardson and Rick Pendergrass with homeruns and Harold Frasher with five RBIs.

The BI Bombers moved into second place on Thursday night in a hotly contested game with the Road Runners, the Bombers winning 23-21. The Runners left the bases loaded in the sixth and seventh innings but were unable to score to pull the game out. Sandburg loses out, 5-4 in summer tournament

ORLAND PARK — Last week the Carl Sandburg summer baseball team in their first game of the summer baseball tournament lost a 5-4 decision to Oak Park High School.

Jeff King, Sandburg's pitching ace, went the distance on the mound for Sandburg. King went eight innings, giving up eight hits, striking out four, and giving up no earned runs.

The Eagles committed eight errors and just played poorly said coach Ron Mellen. Joe Stratta and Al Barnett provided most of the Eagles offensive attack, Stratta pounding three hits and Barnett getting two. With exception to this game the Eagles had a great season posting a 20-8-2 record and finishing first in their conference.

The Eagles team batting average was a sparkling .289, some 69 points better than what they hit in the spring. One of the members most responsible for their fine batting average was Bill Nicolai with a team leading .422 average followed by Bill Nelson .324, Joe Stratta .322, Ron Weiland .318, and Crane D'Lougy .316.

The hitting was the main reason for the Eagles vast improvement from their spring season to their summer season.

"The team had a fine season and did a great job, and if we can tighten up our defense for next year we should be really tough to beat," coach Mellen said.

QUIT HORSEING AROUND!

Making the most on your money takes horse sense—not horse play! It takes the ability to accurately judge an investment's security and returns . . . before you make the investment, not afterward.

The prospect of earning 6% per annum on a $10,000, 2-year savings certificate, and 5 3/4% on a $5000, 1-year certificate is a good deal—even if risk were involved. But at Lake Shore Savings we assure you high returns on your investment without the necessity of crossing your fingers and hoping for a winner. And we remove the element of chance: your funds are insured to $20,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation. You don't have to saddle yourself with a weak investment.

But if you're looking for excitement . . . if you enjoy the feeling of your blood pressure rising and your stomach gnarling, well . . . that's a horse of a different color!

RIGHT NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY A USED CAR!

Every year VW's race
on the Baja.
Every year
they win.

Every year VW's race on the Baja. Over some of the roughest terrain in the world. The Baja Desert. Against all sorts of competition. And the VW's have finished first. Five times, in five consecutive years.

We're celebrating these victories with the Baja Champion SE. A limited production Super Beetle with special features:
• Like silver metallic paint.
• Special sports wheels.
• A special plaque and certificate.
• An optional leatherette interior as standard equipment.
• And the same type of rugged construction and dependability that beat the Baja.

And for all that, it only costs a little more than a regular Super Beetle.

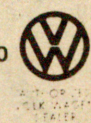

Like we said, The Baja Champion SE is a limited production car. We don't have many. So come in soon. Look over the Special Edition Beetle. And any other VW that catches your eye. They're all made as if they were going to the Baja.

We're
celebrating with the Baja Champion SE.

Steam is the theme

NEW LENOX — The Will County Threshermen's Association will open its 10th annual steam show—featuring all manner of antique farm machinery that are operated by steam power—at the Francis 4-H Field here tomorrow, Aug. 3.

The show is to run four days, closing Sunday, Aug. 6. The 4-H Field is a mile east of the four-way stop at Cedar and Francis Roads, New Lenox.

There is a donation collected from those attending except children under 12, who pay nothing. The parking is also free.

There will be an exhibition antique tractor pull daily, according to those in charge, and a parade each day of the show at 3 p.m. There will be bleachers for the spectators.

Those attending the show—and there are many steam buffs who attend from near and far—will see how steam power was used to thresh grain, shell corn, plow fields and saw logs into lumber. Also on exhibit will be vintage gas tractors, antique cars and all shapes and sizes of steam engines.

There is to be an auction of antique farm machinery at 11 a.m. Saturday and also on Saturday will be the annual bake sale conducted by the Ladies Fair. There also will be handcraft exhibits and small antiques sold Saturday and Sunday.

Meals and short orders will be served on the show grounds, according to those in charge.

for those under the general corporate fund, $288,450.

Add to this $27,123 in bond and interest payments and $34,000 in special taxes, including $10,000 for the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund and $7,500 as a payment on the Yunker building plus $4,000 interest on the balance, and $500 for civil defense and one comes to the total of $1,103,648.

NEW LENOX — Foschi Brothers, Joliet contractors, were low on the new list of bids for the interceptor sewer that will serve the Levitt and Sons subdivision and adjacent territory.

The bids were opened at the recessed meeting of the New Lenox village board last Thursday night. There were seven bidders. The figure submitted by Foschi Brothers was $147,887.40, base, and $147,251 for the alternate.

Under the formula used all the alternate bids were averaged and a percentage taken to determine the cost for Levitt and the cost to be borne by the village.

Under this Levitt's share if the Foschi bid is accepted would be $109,473.30, and the village share, $34,014.10.

Under the pre-annexation agreement signed with the billage Levitt has the right to accept or reject any bid. At a previous letting Levitt rejected the bid of Blaine Saxton, of Mokena, that had been accepted by the village.

At the meeting last Thursday night the village board voted to give the contract to Foschi, subject to approval by Levitt. Because of its desire to serve other properties the village wants a 24-inch sewer main. Levitt and Sons do not need a main that large to service its development so the village will pay the difference for the oversize line.

The base bid covers the cost of the large main while the alternates represent Levitt's costs. The other bids received were as follows:

Bidder	Base Bid	Alternate
Levitt	$163,046	$112,566
Rossetti	173,378	126,844
Saxton	188,270	144,307
Burns	189,702	142,059
Marich	199,505	148,339
Ferro	256,888	191,145

The percentage arrived at for the billage share on the Foschi bid was approximately 23 percent.

Board says thank you to mayor, trustee

NEW LENOX — Resolutions, expressing their appreciation for the services given the community by Mayor Joseph E. Hartung and Trustee Earl W. Schroeder, were adopted by the village board at a recessed session held Thursday night, July 27, and ordered spread on the records of the council.

Last Thursday night was the last public meeting of the board attended by Hartung and Schroeder. Because of the press of personal business the two board members tendered their resignations several weeks ago. The resignations became effective July 31. The resolutions follow:

Earl W. Schroeder

Whereas, Earl W. Schroeder of 1227 Towncrest, in the Village of New Lenox, Will County, Illinois, in April, 1967, was duly elected by the citizens of said Village of New Lenox to the office of

Trustee of the Village of New Lenox; and,

WHEREAS, the said Earl W. Schroeder did thereafter serve the citizens of said Village in such capacity until July 31, 1972; and,

WHEREAS, the said Earl W. Schroeder did also serve in the capacity as the Commissioner of Police by appointment of the Mayor, during the ten years of his office as Trustee; and

WHEREAS, the said Earl W. Schroeder did unselfishly serve the citizens of the Village of New Lenox in such capacity with honor, dedication and personal sacrifice; and his contribution in establishing a Police Communications Center and upgrading the efficiency of the police department, and the service to the citizens of the Village of New Lenox, is a source of gratification and great pride of the members of the Village Board; and;

WHEREAS, the Village of New Lenox is desirous of expressing its appreciation to Earl W. Schroeder for his contribution to the government of the Village and its citizenry.

Now, therefore, be it resolved by the president and the board of trustees of the village of New Lenox, Will County, Illinois, that it does hereby express its sincere appreciation to Earl W. Schroeder for his unselfish devotion, stalwart leadership and of his personal commitment to the people of New Lenox and do hereby give recognition to his outstanding and notable contributions to the Village of New Lenox.

Be it further resolved that this resolution, upon its adoption, be spread in full upon the official records of the Village of New Lenox.

Joseph E. Hartung

Whereas, Joseph E. Hartung of 327 Old Hickory Road, in the Village of New Lenox, Will County, Illinois, in April of 1967, was duly elected by the citizens of said Village to the office of Village President, and having been re-elected by said citizens in April of 1971 to said office, did thereafter serve the citizens of New Lenox in such capacity until July 31, 1972; and

WHEREAS, the said Joseph E. Hartung did unselfishly and devotedly serve the citizens of the Village of New Lenox with exceptional honor, dedication and personal sacrifice, and his steadfast leadership in the office of Village President, in helping to provide the citizens of the Village with municipal service for water, and establishing a program for the orderly growth of the Village, is a matter of particular pride to the Board of Trustees and the citizens of the Village of New Lenox. It is noted that his untiring dedication and selfless devotion during the tenure of his office, set an outstanding example of high public service; and

WHEREAS, the Village of New Lenox is desirous of expressing its appreciation to Joseph E. Hartung, for his many contributions to the government of the Village and of its citizenry.

Now therefore, be it resolved by the board of trustees of the village of New Lenox, Will County, Illinois, that it hereby expresses sincere gratitude and appreciation of the Board of Trustees and of the people of New Lenox to Joseph E. Hartung for his years of unparalleled devotion, dedication and personal sacrifice to the People of New Lenox and does hereby give recognition to his notable and outstanding contributions as President of the Board of Trustees.

Be it further resolved that this resolution, upon its adoption, be spread in full upon the official records of the Village of New Lenox.

WILL COUNTY — The Illinois State Executive Board of the U A W (International Union, United Automobile, Aerospace and Agricultural Implement Workers of America) has endorsed State Representative John J. Houlihan (D-41) in his bid for the new 17th Congressional seat created by reapportionment. The 17th Congressional District embraces Will, Kankakee and Iroquois Counties and Bloom Township in South Cook County.

Two will be appointed

NEW LENOX — When the New Lenox village board meets tonight it is expected to appoint a member to the board to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Trustee Earl W. Schroeder and Mayor Joseph E. Hartung both tendered their resignations several weeks ago, effective July 31.

All indications point to the appointment of William E. Brown, 2812 Gifford Place, Cherry Hill Estates, as a village trustee. He will serve until the regular village election in April, 1973. Brown is a director of the Cherry Hill Estates Homeowners group and has been active in village affairs.

There was no information available, however, as to the probable choice for mayor and whether he would come from the board or picked from the outside. It was expected that James Warning, chairman of the finance committee, would preside at tonight's meeting.

Warning might serve as interim mayor for a couple of meetings to give the board more time for a selection.

However, it would not be legal for the board to operate with an interim mayor until next April, when one will be elected to serve out the two years that would then be left in Hartung's term. The trustee appointed tonight would also be eligible to run for the balance of Schroeder's term.

If a mayor is chosen from the board of trustees then the individual so named would have to resign as a trustee, it was explained, which would mean another appointment until next spring.
